Luxurious Prison.
Japan can boast of the most luxurious prison in the world. It is about fifteen miles from Tokyo. In the midst of gardens; where flourish melons and cherry trees, enclosed with ponds bearing fine crops of water lilies, rises the mass of spacious and airy cells. Lighting throughout is by electricity. Among other features are bathrooms with marble baths, hot and cold water, dressing rooms and reading rooms.

TO STIR UP BELOIT AT NEXT ELECTION

"No License" Campaign to Be Started And a Hot Time for Some Is Predicted.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., Oct. 14.—If the reports that are being circulated around town this morning are to be credited things will certainly be stirring here at the next election in the spring. Captain Ward, who delivered a speech at the county convention of the W. C. T. U. at their closing meeting last night, is said to be planning to assist in the "no license" campaign, if he does, dry bones will rattle in Beloit.

Julius Larson, a farmer, celebrated his release from jail where he had been sent for drunkenness, by getting on another spree. He was sent back to Janesville today to serve a term of thirty days.

The Six O'Clock club had its first meeting last evening. Supper was served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church in the dining room of the church. Professor George D. Fairfield, former vice-consul at Lyons, France, was the speaker of the evening. He spoke of the France of today and gave the company a good inside view of the French people from the standpoint of one who loves and believes in the French and their nation.

Ed. Hart, who has been a reporter on the staff of the Daily News, gives up his position to take on as a reporter on the Milwaukee Sentinel. Mr. Hart is a graduate of Beloit college and won considerable fame while there as a long distance runner.

CALLED TO MADISON BY SISTER'S DEATH

B. H. Baldwin Received Sad Tidings of Passing of Mrs. C. K. Tenney.

While at Mason City, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Baldwin, who went to Madison City, Ill., last Monday to attend a reunion of the ex-prisoners of War, received a message from Madison Tuesday night informing them of the death of Mr. Baldwin's sister, Mrs. C. K. Tenney, and were here today on their way to Madison where the funeral was held this afternoon. Mrs. Tenney was 62 years of age and her husband, Attorney Tenney, and two sons, William O. Tenney and Charles H. Tenney, survive her. The last named is well known in Janesville by reason of the fact that his wife was formerly Miss Elizabeth Abbott, teacher of music at the State Institute for the blind. Mr. Baldwin is now the only survivor of a family of ten children. He was called to Chicago two weeks ago by the death of a sister-in-law, Mrs. John Baldwin.

RECEIVER ARRIVES AT THE BANK TODAY

Government Official in Charge of the Mineral Point Bank Which Closed Its Doors.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Mineral Point, Oct. 14.—Receiver Schuchold arrived here today from Washington and took charge of the first National bank which was closed last Monday. Thus far no arrests have been made although it is expected that Vice President Phil. Allen, who is charged with having used the bank's funds for speculation will be taken into custody tonight or tomorrow. Mr. Allen is still confined to his home and unable to leave the house. He has been seen by several intimate friends but thus far has made no statement. It is thought that $200,000 will nearly cover the shortage thus far discovered.

Persons arriving from Mineral Point today say that the citizens there are not realizing that Mr. Allen has been guilty of wrongdoing. For years he has been considered one of the leading businessmen of the community and his word has been taken as law. He has been prominent in church work and was considered beyond reproach. President Spensley of the bank has assured the depositors that they will not lose anything by the trouble. It is intimated that President Spensley and others of the directors may be arrested with Mr. Allen on the charge of having permitted deposits on Monday last when the bank was insolvent. This Mr. Spensley says was not correct, as he told all who asked him that he thought all would be right and things had been made to sell mining property and put the money on deposit to make up the known deficiency.

President Spensley's daughter, Miss Thelma Spensley, was married last evening to John Liebhorn of the "Perrins." Friends and the couple passed through Janesville this morning on their wedding trip.

Punished for Assault: "I'm not pleased with him and he got mad," explained Ferdinand Storm, who was haled before Judge Filfield this morning to answer to a charge of assault and battery on the person of Jacob Komzinski. "And then you knocked him down," interpreted Chief Anderson. "Five dollars and costs, amounting in all to $7.80, or 10 days in jail," said the court. Storm will have to do the rest of his raging in the hustle.

House Cleaning and Moving Time Is Again Upon Us.

The cold snappy weather which surprised even the oldest inhabitants may put a temporary crimp in proceedings. We hardly think it will be of long duration.

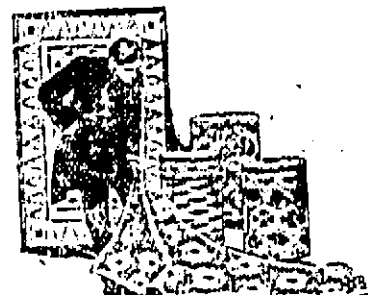

New Floor Coverings, Curtains and Draperies

WILL INTEREST A GOOD MANY PEOPLE SHORTLY. The Big Store has made great preparations to take care of an unusually large demand. Prosperity is in the air. We read about the large crops in many states which are the basis of all prosperity. The large demand is sure to make a shortage of desirable merchandise. Our advice is: Buy early while assortments are large and goods are being sold on the old price basis. We get letters every day from manufacturers apprising us of price advances and they say they will have to advance prices again before many weeks. There are cold facts. THE BIG STORE has a decided advantage over the average store buying goods in a smaller way and paying long prices.

Our Stock of Rugs is a Wonder

We have told you this before. People tell us the same thing. There are always people, however who have not heard of it, or who need reminding. The latter class may be going farther and doing worse. We sell desirable rugs at a saving of $2.50 to $5.00 over Chicago prices on rugs retailing from $25.00 to $50.00 and show just as many of the leading makes. On rugs sold in Chicago from $50 to $100 we save you from $10 to $15.

We are prepared to get special patterns in the large size high class rugs on short notice.

The rugs we are talking about are all of American manufacture, amongst which will be found the famous Savalon Royal Wilton, the famous Whittall rugs, Anglo-Indian, Anglo-Persian, the finest carpets in the world whether compared to carpets made in this country or abroad.

IN THE CURTAIN DEPARTMENT

There is hardly anything good in curtains that cannot be found here. Buying in quantities as we do (about 25 to any other store's one; that is, any store within a radius of 70 miles), it is simply a hopeless task for the other stores hereabouts to compete with us. The people have learned this, which accounts for the tremendous business we are doing in the curtain department. This department includes everything in curtains by the pair, both lace and drapery. Wisconsin In History

WISCONSIN was admitted to the Union as a state in 1848, but for more than two centuries prior to that interesting event the hardy pioneer made much important history. The story of Wisconsin before statehood is one of heroic pioneering, in which the sturdy and adventurous race of white men battled against the wilderness and its savage tribes, the struggle finally resulting in a complete mastery of the situation and the opening up to settlement of one of the most beautiful, beautiful and resourceful regions in America.

Wisconsin was named for its principal river, which Joliet called "Mackinac" and later French explorers "Ouisconsin." The word is supposed to be of Indian origin and means "great stone." The banks of the lower part of the Wisconsin river are high and have precipitous faces of sandstone. The region which is now called Wisconsin first appears in history in 1631, when Jean Nicolet, exploring agent and ambassador of Governor Champlain of New France, first set foot on Indian soil. Nicolet was the first white man known to have visited the old northwest. After discovering the St. Mary falls, at the outlet of Lake Superior, on his first trip west he turned his course southward and, skirting the eastern shore of Lake Michigan, finally landed at Red Banks, near the present city of Green Bay. The Winnebago Indians had a village there, and Nicolet, seeing it, thought he had reached the Orient. Expecting to meet silk-gowning mandarins, Nicolet dressed himself in a brilliantly colored robe and majestically approached the village, firing off a pistol in each hand. The astonished Indians thought he was the god of lightning and thunder and proceeded to pay him profound honor. Twenty years later Nicolet was followed by Hudson and Grosvenor, who are by many credited with having discovered the upper Mississippi river, and they, in turn, were followed by Menard, Allouez, Joliet, Marquette, La Salle, Du Ruit, Ferret, Lesueur, Renard and other French explorers. In 1680 Father St. Cosme visited the present site of the city of Milwaukee, and in 1700 Lesueur discovered the rich lead and zinc mines in the southwestern part of the state.

As a dependency of New France Wisconsin had a long and picturesque career, but finally, in 1763, when New France fell, the territory passed to the possession of England. In 1763 the era of colonization began in Wisconsin. Augustin and Charles de Langlade and other fur trading Frenchmen took up their permanent home at Green Bay, and still others established trading posts at different points. In 1787 Wisconsin was placed under American government as part of the Northwest Territory, and it was successively attached to the territories of Indiana, Illinois and Michigan until 1800, when it became an independent territory.

The Black Hawk war in 1827 served to attract attention to the agricultural possibilities of Wisconsin and led to a large influx of settlers.

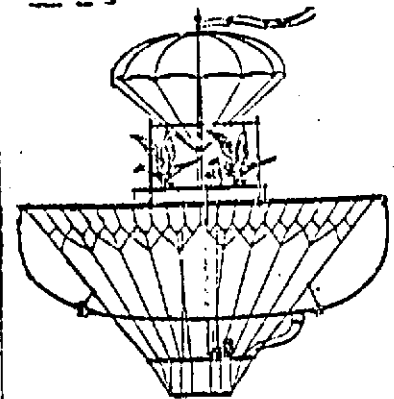

The first newspaper, the Green Bay Intelligencer, was published at Green Bay, Dec. 11, 1833. The total population of the state in 1834 was 4,795.

The territory of Wisconsin was organized in 1836 by act of congress. On April 30 of that year General Henry Dodge was appointed governor by President Jackson, and on July 4 following the territory was formally organized. The new officers were sworn in at Mineral Point amid much festivity. The first territorial legislature met at Belmont, Lafayette county, Oct. 25, 1836, its chief business being to organize the territorial administration, divide

PROPELLED BY EAGLE POWER

Unique Flying Machine Invented by Frenchman Which Is Carried by Our National Bird.

In these days of successful flying machines it is interesting to note some of the curious methods of aerial navigation heretofore proposed. In United States patent granted May 17, 1887, to C. R. E. Vulliamy, and now expired, was shown a new use for the American eagle, instead of being allowed to pose in lofty independence as our patriotic emblem, this utilitarian inventor has put him to work. A team of five eagles, each hitched up in special harness, was connected to a balloon as shown in the illustration, and formed a means of controlling and directing the flight of the balloon, says Popular Mechanics. This motive power was capable of indefinite radius of action and all the aeronaut had to do was to keep his team of eagles headed in the direction he wanted to go, which was done by a turntable arrangement to which the eagles were secured by their harness. The inventor in this case was a Frenchman and his invention was patented in France before it was patented in the United States. This may account for his lack of respect to our national bird.

COMET NEARING EARTH AGAIN

Halley's Celestial Wonder Appears One in 75 Years—Traced Back to 240 B. C.

Halley's comet, which is approaching the earth at a constantly increasing speed and to catch the first traces of which photographic plates are being exposed at observatories all over the world, will not be so striking an object as Donati's comet, which in 1858 spread semicircular-like over a great part of the heavens.

Yet two points in its history make it the most famous of all comets—its long sequence of appearances at intervals of about 75 years, which have been traced back to 240 B. C., and the circumstances under which it became associated with the name of Edmund Halley.

Newton's theory of gravitation suggested that comets might belong to the solar system, moving about the sun in long ellipses and parabolas. Halley, on his appointment as Savilian professor of geometry at Oxford in 1704, followed up the work of his beloved master by computing the orbits for 24 comets from 1337 to 1698.

As an accidental outcome of this he discovered that the orbits of three of them—those of 1531, 1697 and 1682—were so nearly alike as to suggest the identity of the comets. The period of their appearances varied between 74 and 76 years, but this could be accounted for by the pull of the planets and hence Halley decided that they were really reappearance of one comet.

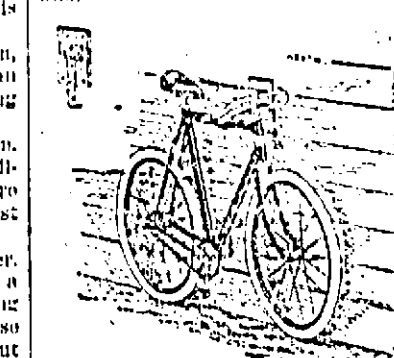

Before his death in 1742 he reflected that, although he could not hope to see the comet's return, if it did appear "about the year 1758," posterity would remember that it was an Englishman who first predicted it.

The comet returned in 1759, as Halley predicted, the slight delay being also foreseen as due to planetary attraction. It has appeared once since then, and we are now watching for its third calculated appearance.

HANDY SUPPORT FOR BICYCLE

A very convenient device which may be attached to the side of a house or any other support to hold a bicycle is shown in the accompanying drawing. It consists of a gate hinge with one leaf secured to a block. The block is nailed to the side of the house, says Scientific American. The other leaf of the hinge, which should be a very long one, is bent over at the end to form a hook. This is caught over the upper horizontal bar of the bicycle frame. The bicycle wheels are placed close to the house, so that the upper part leans outward and is held from falling by engagement with the hook.

Cancer in Lower Animals. Dogs, horses, cattle, mice, even fish have cancer. In "Tunis and Abyssinia" cancer is unknown.

EARLY SETTLER OF ROCK CO. SUMMONED

Horatio W. Moxon, Well Known in Milton Village, Passed Away Last Saturday.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Milton, Oct. 14.—The death of Horatio Walker Moxon, which occurred at the home of his son, W. B. Moxon, in the village of Milton, Oct. 9th, 1909, removes from us another of the old settlers in this part of Wisconsin.

Mr. Moxon was born in the town of Sweden, Monroe county, New York, Nov. 24th, 1827. The family lived for sixteen years in Alfred, N. Y., but in 1843 they moved to Wisconsin, and settled in the town of Albion.

In 1854 he was married to Miss Sarah C. Carr, daughter of Peleg S. Carr and Deborah Goodrich Carr, and a sister of S. C. and J. G. Carr. In 1863 he moved to the farm in the western part of the town of Milton.

Mrs. Moxon died in 1881. Four of six children born to them died also, leaving Mr. Moxon with two children, a son, Mr. W. B. Moxon, and a daughter, now Mrs. T. L. Place.

For many years he was an active worker in the republican party and was a familiar figure in their nominating conventions. From early youth he was a member of the Alfred (N. Y.) S. D. B. church.

The funeral was held at the home of his son, where the last years of his life were spent, Monday afternoon, conducted by Dr. Platts. The College made quartet sang.

Seattle—A picture that John Mason, the actor prizes highly, was taken last week during the exposition. The heroine of the photograph is Miss Columbia, who is the first Eskimo born in the United States. The advent of the girl took place 17 years ago and she was christened Miss Columbia by Mrs. Potter Palmer during the world's fair in Chicago.

Miss Columbia is queen of the Alaska-Yukon exposition and according to Mason and the picture he owns is every inch a queen.

"She is a vivacious and a merry little lady," says Mason, "and is as intelligent as she is pretty. She has become a great favorite in Seattle during the exposition, and I was honored by the graciousness of the monarch who deigned to give me her hand with queenly condescension."

It Is Not Your Fault, Madam

You could not bake bread just as good as Yankee Bread if you had the proper facilities. It is here we excel you, for no home kitchen can produce the tremendous heat of 340 degrees as we do in our super-heated ovens.

Please do not think of Yankee Bread as ordinary bread. It is not baked in the usual way—it is baked in live steam ovens.

These ovens are made tight and have low roofs, so moisture rising from the bread is retained in the ovens.

But even this is not sufficient. Other steam super-heated to 340 degrees is forced in under tremendous pressure.

The result is simply wonderful. Every particle of natural moisture is baked right into the loaf.

And that loaf is the most delicious bread ever made. It is the utmost in bread perfection.

The Effect of Dry Ovens

Home made bread is baked in dry heat.

This heat evaporates the moisture in the dough and rapidly bakes the crust to a crisp.

Then the heat cannot penetrate the crust and reach the center of the loaf.

By actual test the center of the loaf rarely exceeds 100 degrees. Even the oven has a maximum temperature of 200 degrees.

And it requires a heat of 212 degrees to kill the yeast cells. Your oven cannot produce this fierce heat, so the yeast cells are never killed.

They continue to ferment after the bread is baked. They form gas in the stomach and cause indigestion.

The dry crust keeps the heat out, but it also retains the moisture. That's why home baked bread is always damp, but the center is only half-baked.

Our heat of 340 degrees kills every yeast cell and our steam bakes every part of the bread in the proper way.

And it is a perfect bread—the very ultimate in nutritious food.

Not Adulterated

No adulteration is used in our bread. It seems almost unnecessary to make this statement, because there is scarcely any ever used in any bread nowadays. It is not needed.

There was a time when some bakers used it to whiten the bread when the flour would happen to be of poor quality. But that was years ago.

Now the baker blends his flour.

For instance—we buy three of the best patent flours direct from the mill. We order in carload lots so as to get a uniform grade of the highest quality. Then we mix three flours according to our special formula. The result is a perfectly white loaf of uniform quality.

You Get It Fresh and Warm

Yankee Bread is taken right from the ovens every morning and in ten minutes it is delivered to the very grocer. In a few hours it is distributed over the city.

Isn't that better than having three-day-old bread in your pantry, when you must also spend two days every week in the kitchen?

Try one loaf of this delicious bread today. See how the folks at your table like the bread baked in steam. Let them once taste the delightful flavor and you will no longer have to spend one-sixth of your week in the kitchen.

You can get it at all grocers at 5c the loaf, although it is worth more, because it is larger and three times as good as any other bread ever baked.

THEATRE

A real descendant of one of the ex-presidents of the United States is a member of "The Beauty Spot" company, scheduled to appear at the Myers theatre on Monday, Oct. 18. He is Francis Tyler, great-grandson of ex-President Tyler, and son of Major-General George Tyler, of the United States army. Mr. Tyler is a graduate of Harvard and a prominent member of society. George J. MacFarlane is also a favorite in the end of "The Beauty Spot," and is an inventor as well as an actor. Recently Mr. MacFarlane completed a paper-mache automobile tire which, subjected to a treatment of gutta-percha, has all the pliability of the regulation rubber tire, and can be inflated most successfully. Mr. MacFarlane expects shortly to sign his patent with one of the largest automobile firms in the United States.

Mr. Myers is fortunate in securing The Hauden Stock company for Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of this week. Mr. Hauden is reported to be one of the highest salaried leading men in stock companies. He is surrounded by a carefully selected company of artists, many of whom have been in his company for several seasons. Specialties will be introduced by Cecil B. Summers, Fred Ardith, Miss Joyce, and others. This is a high class attraction at popular prices.

which contains the following significant paragraphs:

"Our free schools must advance along the lines of educational democracy in the sense that they must provide equal educational opportunities for all. Although they must give practical preparation not only for the professions, but also for commercial life, the demands of any part of the business world that courses of study be subordinated to particular interests is not in accord with the proper aims of a national system of common schools."

"A system of common schools that will meet the needs of the times must be democratic in its purpose and its administration; must recognize the importance of expert supervision, of better and more numerous high schools, of better and more numerous schools for the training of teachers, of a merit system for the appointment and promotion of teachers; and it must exclude fraternal and secret organizations of every sort from the social life of the school."

"The common schools of our country must recognize more fully than ever the necessity of training our youth for citizenship. The perpetuation of democracy depends upon the existence in the people of that habit of will which is justice. Liberty under law is the process for attaining justice which has thus far been most successful among civilized men. The call to citizenship is a call to the exercise of liberty under law, a call to the limitation of liberty by law, and a call to the pursuit of justice, not only for one's self but others."

"It is gratifying to know that the educators of the country recognize the fact that the highest mission of the common schools is preparation for life, or as they term it, 'Training our youth for citizenship.'"

Gratifying, because the educator is in absolute control. The average parent never sees the inside of a school-room and has but little if any knowledge about the course of study. The university looks after that, and so preparation for the university and not for life is the policy adopted and pursued.

If the educators have finally recognized the injustice of this policy there is hope for reform, for the responsibility is in their hands and will continue to be until public sentiment is aroused.

ALWAYS IN SESSION.

One of the letters on city government by Commissioner, published Monday night, said that the city government was always in session ready to act on all questions on short notice, thus avoiding the long and tedious delays for which the average common council is noted.

This in itself is a strong argument in favor of the plan, as every man will recognize who has been at all observing. There is no star chamber proceedings about a commission. What is done is done in the open and with the fullest publicity.

Neither is there any politics to interfere with freedom of action. There are no axes to grind nor corns to protect. It means a business administration pure and simple. Conducted by the best businessmen which the voters are able to select, and the fact that these men are elected at large, and not by wards, insures the best material.

There is every argument in favor of the plan and none against it; and when the voters are asked to sign a petition calling for its adoption in Janesville the voters should be eager to sustain the movement.

The Wisconsin law was drafted by Senator Whitehead. It is better than the laws of several other states, as it does not include the recall which makes it possible to retire an official on the slightest provocation. The referendum feature is all that is necessary to insure a careful and conservative administration.

The west is too busy attending to increased business to spend much time in tariff discussion, and politicians who are banking on dissatisfaction for promotion will be disappointed. The time to saw wood is when there is wood to saw, and there is plenty of it in sight just now. The average voter is not a politician, and cares but little about it. He is content without office, and not very much interested in disgruntled ambition.

The people of Janesville will be ready to assist in the anti-tuberculosis campaign soon to be inaugurated in the state. The Gazette has been appointed to take charge of the work in the city, and efforts will be made to enlist the schools and organizations of all kinds in pushing a vigorous campaign. The penny stamps made expressly for Wisconsin will be used, and they should be sold in liberal quantities.

The great steel plants of the country are planning to spend $100,000,000 in 1910 for improvements and betterments. This outlay of money is an expression of confidence in the nation's future which is full of significance.

The state ment is made that the business of Swift & company represents a million dollars a day. "That's going some."

PRESS COMMENT

Peary's Weak Statement.

Rockford Morning Star: In another part of The Star appears the statement of Commander Peary in which he seeks to prove that Dr. Cook did not reach the north pole. The Peary statement must be disappointing to his friends as he proves nothing. The public had been led to believe that Peary had positive proof that Cook did not discover the pole. What is the proof? It is supplied by the Eskimo boys who were with Cook when he made his last dash. By the aid of a map, prepared by Peary, the two boys traced the route over which

Cook passed. These tracings show he was not near the pole at any time.

Donation Party Circuit.

The Madison Democrat questions a Lawrence, Kansas, preacher, who has quit the pulpit to become a trolley conductor in order, he says, that he may lead an honest life. He either has more faith in himself than the ordinary trolley-conductor or his conception of the ministry is based upon an experience that does not appear in the evidence submitted. They do not stop to consider it was probably a donation party district.

It Was Worth It.

The editor of the Madison Journal is seeking a fortune and remarks that an overworked Seattle editor has been left a fortune of $100,000 by a boat whose versus he always good-naturedly printed. Wonder if any Madison poets have money?

Does Bryan Know It?

The Beloit Daily News quotes Tom Taggart as saying that W. J. Bryan will be conspicuously absent from the next democratic convention. We agree with an exchange that if he is absent at all it will be conspicuously so, but we are much more inclined to think he will be conspicuously present, as he has been at several conventions in the past.

Wait Till Football Comes.

The Detroit Free Press has the following verse:

This baseball language puzzles me, I cannot make it out:

When is a hit a "ding" and when is a hit a "clout"?

And when it's neither of these two, My dullness may be seen,

When is a hit a "wallon," And when a "poncherline"?

So Did Spooner

The Chicago Record-Herald announces: Senator Flint of California, who has no opposition to his re-election, announces that he is compelled to retire from politics for the purpose of earning a competence while he is able for the benefit of his family. Goodness who have succeeded in amassing fortunes while serving in the senate will find it difficult to understand what Senator Flint is driving at.

Has Peary Cornered Cook?

The Chicago Inter-Ocean: Commander Robert E. Peary's official statement, embodying the evidence upon which he based his former assertion that he had Dr. Frederick A. Cook "nailed," is published today. It rests chiefly on the testimony of Itokashua and Ahpehah, the Eskimos, who, Cook says, accompanied him to the pole.

If the statement is to have weight it is evident we must accept as true the word of the two Eskimos and the word of Peary. The question of veracity is intimately interwoven.

Except In Dry Towns

The Madison Democrat believes Nikola Tesla, who believes that he can produce rain wherever and whenever he pleases, if his success in this is as marked as in his use of words there should be no drought wherever his plan is worked.

And Some Won't

The Rockford Star is optimistic. It believes that the six hundred British sailors who deserted in New York may return in the cold gray dawn of the morning after.

A Wise Decision

The Milwaukee Sentinel says the Wisconsin faculty holds that even a star football player must abide by certain rules.

The youngest peer in the British empire, aged 2, is half American, his mother being Lady De Clifford, who was Eva Harrington, an American actress. And this brings up the question: What are American heiresses going to do twenty-five years hence to obtain "foreign" noblemen?

Save Your Teeth

It is better to save teeth than to have them pulled. One tooth of your own made sound is better than a hundred of artificial teeth.

It is useless for you to delay having your work done now, simply because you fear to sit in the dentist's chair.

My office is provided with the best modern equipment and I am able to do your work quickly and with a surprisingly small amount of pain.

If your teeth must be extracted—my method is painless.

DIED SUDDENLY AT PARK HOTEL

MRS. MARIA DARLOW SUCCEUMED
TO HEART FAILURE.

SOMETIME DURING NIGHT

Despite Her Advanced Years She Had Apparently Been in Exceptionally Good Health and Spirit.

Mrs. Maria Darlow, who had been making her home at the Park hotel for over a year, died of heart failure sometime during the night or early this morning. The door of her room had been left unlocked, contrary to the usual custom, and the key was on the outside. When she did not appear at breakfast Miss Clara Lichtfuss, one of the chambermaids, opened the door but was at once reassured that all was well by seeing the occupant, apparently wrapped in peaceful slumber. When she visited the room a second time about 10:40, however, and noticed that the sleeper's position had not changed and that the light was burning in the room, a premonition came to her that all might not be as well as it appeared.

The day clerk, James B. Jackson, and Mrs. L. C. Brewer were notified and when they made an investigation they found Mrs. Darlow cold in death. District Attorney J. L. Fisher was notified and Dr. Charles Sutherland was summoned. The latter was of the opinion that she had died sometime during the early morning and the fact that she was partially dressed and that the light had been left burning seemed to bear out this conjecture.

An effort was at once made to get into communication with her daughter, Mrs. E. B. Porter, who formerly lived here with her mother and who is now conducting the Porter Gift shop, 940 Pine Arts building, Chicago, but the latter had gone to her boarding place for luncheon and could not be notified until after the noon hour. Word was also sent to her son, William Byron, who lives at Waukau. Mrs. Frank Spoon of this city is a step-daughter and there are three step-children living in California and another at the old farm.

Mrs. Darlow was about seventy-three years old and was unusually active for her age. She appeared to be in her usual good health and spirits while chatting with other guests at the hotel last evening. By all who knew her she was regarded as one of the most lovable characters one might hope to meet and the news of her sudden passing was a severe shock not only to relatives but to all her wide circle of friends.

BOTH PHONES 128.

The Oyster Season Is On

and this year the public of Janesville and vicinity are going to be supplied with the purest oysters it is possible to deliver. We have the agency for the

Sealship Oysters

and this guarantees to the public that the oysters are taken direct from the beds
and put into a metal receptacle and "sealed" and this seal is not broken until it reaches the grocer.

The ice, to keep the Seal-ship oysters cold, is placed on the outside and around the "Sealed can" so that no
water from the ice is mixed with the oysters. When you buy Sealship oysters you get pure fresh oysters and nothing else (no water) direct from the oyster beds in Connecticut retaining their full flavor and with the salty
sea tang that makes them
so delicious.

It's economy to buy seal-
ship oysters because you get solid oysters, no juice or water, and one pint will therefore go as far as a pint
and a half of other kinds.

These oysters are received in Janesville in 3 gallon
cans every day, and is furnishing the small quantities to the dealers it assures you of receiving them fresh, and being sealed they retain their natural flavor.

LOCAL PASTOR

MAKES REPORT

REV. J. W. LAUGHLIN SPEAKS AT STATE CONFERENCE.

CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE

On Foreign Missions Made Illuminating Report on Progress And Interest in Church's Work.

That the hope of the world is not in education, nor in civilization, nor in modern political democracy, but in the gospel of Christ, and that in the furtherance of this gospel in the missionary field, the Presbyterians of the Wisconsin synod have come forward nobly as two of the main points of the report made by Rev. J. W. Laughlin of this city at the Presbyterian conference at Oshkosh. The report is herewith produced in full.

"Moderator and Brethren:
"Among the many things on the foreign field which call for gratitude
the committee wish to speak of three which are most apparent.

"The excellent attitude of the missionaries in their reports to the board, and as it is seen in newspaper correspondence, by tourists and by men specially designated to investigate the work is exceedingly gratifying. So optimistic are these faithful men upon the 'Bright Line' the board is led to say that in China, India, Africa and in the Philippines there are signs of the coming of a wave of spiritual blessing like that which has already passed over Korea. What over difficulties may be in the way of speedy triumph of the kingdom the missionary does not see in either 'the stolid indifference' of the heathen or in the deeply rooted error of the non-Christian religions any insuperable barrier to the truth as it is revealed in the gospel of Christ.

Results Good.
"The actual results so far as human estimates are concerned are sufficiently large to challenge the faith of any man who is looking for something tangible on the foreign field.
We do not believe that the work of the missionary can be estimated as you would estimate the size of a mountain or number of trees in a forest,
but it is something to know that while in 1908 there were ten thousand communicants added on the foreign field,
in 1909 there were fourteen thousand four hundred and nine. No estimate of influence, of power, of social uplift, of the decline of heathen customs or of the rise of a better life can be made. Nor does this take into consideration the changed attitude of the non-Christian mind with reference to Christianity. The recognition of Christian institutions by the Chinese,
the equal opportunity which Christiansity has with other religions in Japan, the unprecedented growth of Christianity in Korea, the removal of the death penalty for becoming a Christian in Persia, the phenomenal political and social changes which have taken place within the last few months in the Mohammedan Orient, especially in Turkey and Persia, all point to the changed attitude of the non-Christian mind with reference to Christianity, and are indicative of the great leavening power of the gospel.

Signs of Increased Interest.
"There are many clear indications of an increased interest in the work on the part of the people in the home land. The enlarged offering which the church made to the board is not the least of these. At the beginning of the year the board faced a particularly heavy responsibility. Not only did it have a larger budget to raise than heretofore but in addition it was compelled to provide for a deficit of over one hundred and seventy thousand dollars. But so heroically did the churches respond to the needs of the work that the income for the year approximated the appropriations was $1,127,160.77 as compared with $1,134,218.51 from the same sources
the year before. So that the board closed the year with all obligations met and with $25,250.00 paid on the deficit.

Laymen's Missionary Movement.
"The manifest awakening on the part of the men and the steady growth of the habit of systematic giving account for much of this enlarged offering. No one can be cognizant of the frequent meetings of men to consider mission work and the problems arising on the mission field without seeing a deepening interest in the work. The Laymen's Missionary Movement is carrying on its work with accelerated momentum and increasing power. The churches in Canada have been roused as never before by a great interdenominational convention held in Toronto and plans are being projected for a campaign in the United States which is to touch the church life at the most strategic points. As a result it is confidently

American Changes His Mind.
"Nor is it a matter of chance that like this to speak of the changed attitude of the 'average' man at home
with reference to the people in un-evangelized countries. The new approach which is being made from the standpoint of the solidarity of the race is having its effect upon the Western man. We are not so confident of the everlasting supremacy of the Anglo-

"Yes and a half months.

mately or definitely the saving to taxpayers over the former system of government?

Not until the end of six months.

4—Do the improvements with regard to streets and city property in general
show a favorable gain over conditions
as they existed under the old form?

Shows more work for money spent.

5—Are the people generally satisfied with the present form of government and in your opinion would they return to the old way?

Yes, I think not.

6—Is law and order of the community better preserved—the police department handled more favorably?

Yes.

7—Are the public utilities dealt with
to better advantage?

Yes.

F. C. MOSES,
Mayor,
Independence, Kas.

Mayor's Office,
San Diego, Cal., Oct. 7, 1939.

The Gazette,
Janesville, Wis.

Dear Sir: Replying to your favor of September 30th, San Diego adapted the commission form of government in January, 1909, and it went into effect May 2nd. It is impossible to state definitely the saving to taxpayers over the former system of government, but there is no question but what the city is securing a better service for the money expended than under the old system. If you will write to "The City Herald," the official organ of the League of American Municipalities, at Des Moines, Ia., you will find an article in the September number which will give you considerable information as to what has been accomplished in one hundred days under commission government by our city. I believe the people are generally satisfied with the new form of government, and have no desire to return to the old way.

Yes, law and order in the community is better preserved, and the work accomplished in the police department has been most excellent.
Public utilities are dealt with to better advantage, and there has been improvement in all the departments of the city government.

I believe that San Diego has the best system of government adopted by any American city, and that that will demonstrate that it is a success.

Very truly yours,
GIANT CONARD,
Mayor of the City of San Diego.

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 6, 1939.

1. How long since you adopted the commission form of government?

Jan. 1, 1909.

2. Can you state either approximately or definitely the saving to taxpayers over the former system of government?

The cost of operation and maintenance was about $50,000 less to October 1, 1939 than for the same period last year. The tax rate for 1938 was $19.00; for 1939, $18.50.

3. Do the improvements with regard to streets and city property in general show a favorable gain over conditions as they existed under the general merchandise in Janesville or elsewhere.

This property is clear and is worth $6000.
